MAN AGAINST BOA.

A Remarkable Duel Fought in Central America to Settle a Wager.

A Newark engineer who served on the engineering corps employed in the construction of the Nicaragua canal told the story of a duel with a boa constrictor by a fellow engineer. One of the party stated one evening that he could kill a boa single handed. The rest of the crowd tried to convince him he was wrong, but he stood to the assertion. Finally a handsome bet was made that he could not dispatch a boa alone if the deadly reptile was in its natural condition. The young engineer promptly accepted the terms of the wager.

The next day a gang of natives were sent into the forest to find a boa. They finally came upon just the article they were looking for. It was a well grown specimen of the boa species fully 15 feet long. It had eaten heartily a few days before it was discovered, and it was therefore torpid. It was captured without difficulty and taken back to camp. It was deposited in a room, where it was securely bound and then left until its sleep should be over. The young engineer who was to meet the undulous member of the forest in a duel to the death waited for his tough bargain many times, but he never let any one know and was "dead game," as the saying goes, from first to last. Boas often remain in torpor for three weeks, and it was nearly a fortnight before the pinioned snake showed signs of returning activity. The engineers then appointed a night for the combat, and the young man who was to face the serpent went into active training. It had been stipulated that his only weapon was to be a knife, and the young man relied on his clear brain, iron nerve and supple wrist to carry him through the encounter in safety.

When work was over on the appointed day, those who were in the secret entered the room and proceeded to cut the ropes with which the serpent was bound. It had been coiled up and several hands placed about it. These were all severed at once, and the snake's opponent uttered while his companions held a hasty retreat to safe coigns of vantage from which to watch the strange duel and to give succor in a last extremity. The young engineer was light-footed and carried in his right hand a long knife, highly ground and sharpened. The monster, half famished as it was, was in a most angry humor, and its head, oscillating to and fro with disconcerted jaws and vicious shining, beady eyes, must have made the young man's flesh creep. He strode straight up to the foe, and with a light movement of his knee and the point of his hand he struck the snake on the head. The blow was a telling one, but his success was nullified by the fact that the serpent, quicker than the young man, had descended upon his neck and had taken a firm grip upon his arm, and by its entire length and weight had pulled him down.

The young man, who had been told that the young fellow's knife was the only weapon he was to use, did not wait to transfer the knife to his other hand, but summoned all his power and cut at the coil of the serpent nearest his pinioned hand. It was a splendid stroke, a backward cut, and it was clean through the body. The upper portion of the shiny coil dropped to the floor, and the intrepid engineer had won his bet. The entire contest lasted but a few seconds, and so quickly did it pass that the breathless onlookers scarcely realized what had happened. The young man was pretty thoroughly exhausted. His shoulder was quite badly lacerated by the teeth of the snake. The strangest part of the episode was that the young man's arm was lame for weeks, and all its length was a typical black and blue where the snake had encircled it.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Dangers of the Paris Cab.

Professor Brouardel relates the two following histories of accidents that happened on the same day to a cabman and a medical practitioner. The former fell asleep in his heated cab after having carefully closed the windows. Half an hour later he was taken out dead, and post mortem examinations at the morgue revealed carbonic oxide poisoning as the cause of the catastrophe. On the other hand, the practitioner had re-entered his heated and closed carriage after an absence of an hour at a consultation.

After a drive of five minutes he was seized with giddiness, nausea and a degree of muscular loss of power that rendered the throwing open of the carriage windows a matter of extreme difficulty. He suffered from the effects of this carbonic acid poisoning for 10 further days. In the course of the discussion that ensued M. Moisson stated that this danger was not limited to the briguettes of public vehicles, but extended to nearly all the household heating apparatus.

The joints of these apparatuses were mostly composed of glazed earthenware, which under the influence of the heat, soon cracked and allowed the carbonic oxide gas to escape. He said that non-fatal accidents were very common, and he knew many people who complained every winter of malaise, which disappeared in summer with the exit of the determining cause—the deadly briguettes of the comfortable (?) Paris heated cab.—London Lancet.

The large attendance of the members of the State Central Committee of the Silver party on yesterday, the enthusiasm manifested, the prevailing harmony and the determined will appearing in all, presage a sweeping victory for the ticket to be nominated at Carson City on the 4th day of September next. There being no longer the semblance of a rational excuse for any friend of silver to remain in either of the old parties, the committee issued a ringing address to the people and invited members of all parties to come and join the Silver party and unite the genuine silver sentiment of Nevada unanimously against the two great national parties which have so ignominiously surrendered to the money power. The guerrilla warfare of the old party organizations in this State can result only in disaster to the guerrilla politicians themselves, and as a reproach to their posterity for thus giving aid and comfort to the enemy led by Cleveland, Sherman & Co. While this invitation will fall upon the dull ears of the dull leaders, the honest non-office seeking rank and file will doubtless fall in line, as several old timers declared yesterday that they had cast their last vote for party policies which have brought our country to the verge of ruin, and no earnest effort is being made by the Administration or Congress to avert the impending disaster.

THE TARIFF BILL.

A motion to lay the tariff bill on the table was defeated yesterday in the United States Senate by a vote of 38 to 28. There are 38 Republicans in the Senate and the vote implies that many of them were absent or voted against tabling the bill. Allen, Kyle and Peffer voted against the motion, but on a strict party vote the Republicans should have recorded 38 votes in favor of it. Gorman of Maryland regretted that the income tax clause had been retained in the tariff bill, but he opposed the motion to lay it on the table nevertheless. Whether Hill supported the motion is not stated, but he probably did, as he is opposed to the income tax feature of the measure. Yesterday's vote indicates that the bill will pass the Senate in some form, probably before the dog days, and as the members of the House are anxious to get home to repair their political fences the bill will become law before Congress adjourns. It is, however, a very different measure from that introduced in the House by Representative Wilson.

GOLD-SAVING PROCESS.

Reports from Colorado are to the effect that a new process for treating low grade gold ores has been devised in Boulder county. It is claimed that by a peculiar construction of filters 95 per cent. of the gold is saved without plates or chemicals. If these claims are substantiated by actual workings of ores, the invention or discovery will be of incalculable benefit to Nevada. There are veins of low grade gold ores in many parts of the State, which could be worked with profit if the cost of reduction did not exceed two or three dollars per ton. Should the new process save 95 per cent. of the gold in these ores without plates or chemicals, it will give an impetus to mining wherever there is a gold-bearing vein and machinery to crush the ore.

Mr. HUNTINGTON has called Mr. Adolph Sutro on the latter's bluff regarding the granting of cheaper fares on the railroads to the Heights and Cliff House, and while his offer contains a strain of sarcasm, it may be possible that when two such men fall out the public will receive a benefit. Mr. Sutro proposes to deduct Sutro Heights to San Francisco on condition that only a 5-cent fare will be charged on Mr. Huntington's cable and other roads to the Heights and Cliff House. Mr. Huntington has expressed, not only his willingness to do this, but even more, as he will give the people better accommodations as well as the 5-cent rate of fare. It will now be Mr. Sutro's turn to come back, and if the gentlemen are both willing to become philanthropists, then why quarrel. The people of San Francisco will certainly have no objections to accepting Mr. Sutro's donation, and will as readily accept Mr. Huntington's liberality regarding the fare. And as long as these gentlemen are in the humor the citizens ought to pat them on their backs and say "sic 'em Carlo and Towser" until the trade is consummated.

The Court-martial of Lieutenant Maney on charges growing out of the killing of Captain Hedburg at Fort Sheridan, began at Fort Snelling yesterday. Colonel E. C. Mason is President of the Court, which is made up of officers of high rank. The charges are all summed up in a general charge of conduct prejudicial to discipline. Frank P. Blair, attorney for Lieutenant Maney, argued that acquittal by a civil court was a bar to court-martial.

Eighteen mail carriers of the West division at Chicago, headed by their Superintendent, gave several inches of their skin a piece to one of their injured fellows, P. J. Foutz, who was recently frightfully burned by the explosion of an oil-can.

TARIFF IN THE SENATE.

A Motion to Lay the Bill on the Table Defeated.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—In the Senate to-day Teller moved to lay the tariff bill on the table in order to see if the bill was the one the Democratic majority intended to pass. Hill, Irby and Kyle voted against Teller's motion. Teller's motion was defeated by a strict party vote—28 yeas to 38 nays. Kyle introduced a resolution calling for non-interference in Hawaiian affairs, which went over until to-morrow. Gorman spoke on the tariff. He claimed that action had not been unusually delayed. The Wilson bill had been reported before its effects upon existing industries could be properly studied. It failed to meet the demands of the Treasury Department and actually increased the deficit created by Republican prohibitive duties. The Senate always perfected such bills. Yet, no sooner did the Finance Committee begin its work than the Democratic Senators were informed that any change would be set down as "a betrayal of the party's promises."

"It cannot be denied," said Gorman, "that the demand for prompt action has seriously impaired the efficiency of the Finance Committee's work, and it ultimately became so strong that revising was hastily completed and the bill reported to the Senate. "I ventured the assertion that in the course of silver debate nowhere was the truth of the adage, 'greater haste, less speed,' better exemplified than in that legislation. So it proved then and so it will now."

In answer to the Republicans, Gorman asserted the bill had been constructed on the Democratic theory for revenue, with such incidental protection as could be given consistently to the industries of the country. It followed strictly the course mapped out by President Cleveland in his letter of acceptance. "This is not a free trade measure but a longer step for free trade than either the Mills bill or the Tariff Act of 1893."

It was Democratic because it reduced taxation to the requirements of the Government. It was not perfect, but it was the most logical, most fair, broadest and most timely, and would prove to be the most advantageous tariff legislation raised since the Republican party sprang into existence. Gorman denied that any trust had dictated any part of any schedule. Justice to Louisiana required the retention of the sugar bounty. That the sugar trust has flourished under the Republican tariff there could be no question. Whether it would prosper under the new bill remained to be seen.

Gorman deplored the fastening of the income tax on the tariff bill, but said he knew the majority of his Democratic colleagues differed from him and he would vote for the bill. Gorman was applauded from the galleries and Senators gathered about his desk and congratulated him. Teller said he was interested to learn from Gorman that a majority of the Senate would support the compromise bill. He had known the party had abandoned the Chicago platform as far as silver was concerned at Cleveland's dictation, but he now learned that Cleveland's utterance took precedence over the plank of the party's platform on the tariff. The Maryland Senator had not said all the Democrats supported the bill. How many Populists were counted on to make a majority in the Senate? Were there and backsliders among the Democrats? These were interesting questions and in order to make every Senator show his colors he would move to lay the Tariff bill on the table.

The motion created consternation. Bells rang and pages were sent to drum up every available Senator. Butler, who was found in the barber's chair, came in with one side of his face shaved. Roll call was watched with intense interest. The Democratic line did not show a single gap, and three Populists—Allen, Kyle and Peffer—voted with them. The motion was defeated—28 to 38.

Telegraphic Notes. C. W. Lavin, one of the wealthiest land owners of Mexico, was bitten on the neck by a black fly. The poison spread to all parts of his system, a surgical operation failed to give relief, and he died. His physician reports that Gladstone has a return of the cold from which he suffered recently. Dr. Nettleship will not attempt an operation upon his eye until Dr. Bond declares the patient in good health. The Bribery Investigating Committee of the Senate is not making many developments. It is now said that the person who originated the suggestion of bribery which Buttz attempted to carry out, is dead. The Bimetall Convention at Washington adopted a resolution in favor of free coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1, and declaring that it would support only candidates who pledged themselves to vote for free coinage. Amendments to the Legislative appropriation bill adopted by the House strike out the salaries of officers and clerks of the Civil Service Commission, but retain the appropriation for traveling expenses of examiners for whom no salaries are provided. The engineers at St. Paul elected A. B. Youngston of Meadville, Pa., Assistant Grand Chief and T. S. Graham, First Grand Engineer. A list of fifteen cities from which to choose the place of the next convention was selected. The choice lies between Columbus, Ohio, Ottawa, Ont., and Salt Lake.

Every seat inside the bar was filled and several sat outside, when Chairman Nixon called the meeting to order and stated the purpose for which it was called. He referred to the victory achieved by the party and when the applause subsided Secretary Flannery called the roll and the following members responded to their names:

WHAT SENATORS JONES AND STEWART SAY.

The following telegram from Senators Jones and Stewart was read:

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 22, 1894.

Hon. Geo. S. Nixon, Chairman State Central Committee, Silver Party:—After the financial legislation of the past year it is now manifest that the supreme political issue, that which dominates all other issues, is monetary reform. The free coinage of silver, at the ratio of 16 to 1, is the first step toward procuring the proper volume of legal tender money to be issued directly by the Government. The advanced position assumed by Nevada has been an invaluable aid in directing the attention of the country to this paramount issue.

When the cheers and applause with which these remarks were received subsided, John M. Kelley of Storey was chosen Assistant Secretary.

It was moved and carried that the proceedings be held with open doors, and that members of the press be given seats inside the bar.

The propriety of issuing an address to the people of Nevada on the political situation was discussed, and on motion of M. S. Bonfield a committee, consisting of one from each county, was appointed to prepare such address.

Resolutions relative to the manner of districting counties and supervising the election of delegates to the State Convention were introduced, and on motion a committee of one from each county was appointed to consider the matter and report.

On motion of Dr. Bergstein, it was decided to hold the State Convention on Tuesday, September 4th, and the primaries for the election of delegates to said Convention, August 15th.

APPOINTMENT OF DELEGATES.

On motion, the basis of representation in the State Convention was fixed as follows: One delegate for each county and one delegate for each and every 40 votes or fraction thereof cast for the Weaver and Field Presidential electors in 1892.

On this basis the representation will be as follows:

Churchill, 5 delegates; Douglas, 5; Elko, 24; Esmeralda, 11; Eureka, 19; Humboldt, 19; Lander, 12; Lincoln, 12; Lyon, 12; Nye, 7; Ormsby, 12; Storey,

Royal Baking Powder
ABSOLUTELY PURE

31; Washoe, 22; White Pine, 10. Total, 201.

THE TEST.

Resolved, That the following test be used at the primary election:

"I am in favor of the free coinage of gold and silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 by the United States of America, and will support the nominees of the Silver party."

ELECTION OF DELEGATES.

To George S. Nixon, Chairman:—Your committee appointed to determine the authority for supervising the election of delegates to the State Convention of the Silver party of Nevada beg leave to report as follows:

Your committee are of the opinion that local committees should control the local affairs of the party insofar as possible, and recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That this committee direct the County Central Committees of the Silver party in the several counties of the State to call primary elections at the time designated by this committee and to district counties, apportion delegates to the State Convention among the districts of their respective counties, and supervise the election of such delegates. And that in counties having no regularly organized County Central Committees we recommend that members of the Silver party immediately take steps to organize County Central Committees in their respective counties, and that when from any cause no such committees shall be organized that members of the State Central Committee in such counties be and are here authorized to call primary elections and supervise the election of such delegates.

Very, Cauter, Chairman.

T. V. JULIEN, Secretary.

ADDRESS TO THE PEOPLE.

The Committee on Address reported the following:

The State Central Committee of the Silver party of Nevada upon this, the first occasion of its assembling since the election of 1892, sends its greeting to the people of the commonwealth and extends to them its hearty congratulations for the signal victory and glorious results achieved in their first legislative campaign for free coinage.

The long train of business disasters, which the old parties have inflicted upon our whole country by the demonization of silver, and the refusal, for a long period of years, to repudiate the crime of 1873, to restore silver to its constitutional rank as a money metal and admit it to our mints upon equal terms with gold at a historical ratio by Congressional legislation, as in the days of the purity of our Government, aroused the independent spirit of the citizens into active cooperation, regardless of former parties, in the determination that the electoral vote of our proud State shall never again be cast for candidates for President and Vice President unless they shall be unqualifiedly in favor of free coinage, and shall stand upon a free coinage platform. Over one million of our fellow-countrymen united with us upon this great issue, carried six States and elected twenty-two Presidential Electors, whose votes were cast for Generals Weaver and Field, the nominees of the People's party, the only National party in the United States in favor of the free coinage of gold and silver at the ratio of sixteen to one; a party composed of earnest, honest and patriotic citizens, whose members in Congress are always at their post fighting for the silver cause, as well as for long needed reform.

The base servility of the old parties, led by Grover Cleveland and John Sherman, to the gold trust of Europe and America, so shamefully illustrated in the last twelve months in the executive and legislative departments at Washington, has demonstrated the wisdom of uniting the silver sentiment of the country in an independent party organization before we can reasonably hope for monetary relief. Silver, which has been accepted as money since the dawn of history, was demonized in this country by the two gold Street parties, at the command of a plutocratic oligarchy and the commune of wealth, to add to the purchasing power of gold by decreasing the value of all forms of property, as well as of human labor, and the supply of currency has been purposely contracted to fatten usurers, stop production, bankrupt enterprise and enslave industry.

Within the last twelve months, as a step towards the consummation of this gigantic scheme, and in order to accomplish the repeal of the silver purchasing law and the issuing of millions more of Government interest bearing bonds, a money panic was precipitated upon this country by the moribund greed of gold syndicates and national banks in the great money centers of such magnitude and with such criminal results, as has never before been known in the history of our country. It has stricken all of our industries with paralysis and reduced millions of industrious hands to enforced idleness and brought cold and hunger and squelid want to the households of our industrial classes.

The distressed cry for bread by the tramping legions is borne upon the winds from every section of our once prosperous and happy land to the ears of the sympathizing and looking millions.

This condition is the virus of monometalism and currency contraction working itself out in a continental eruption. The purposes of the National Constitution to form a more perfect union and establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity have been lost sight of by our national public servants in the old parties in the scramble to do the bidding of the heartless and exacting money power which is now controlling the destiny of our republic. We have witnessed for more than a quarter of a century the struggles of the two great political parties for power and plunder while grievous wrongs have been inflicted upon a suffering people. And for the last twenty years they have been playing the tariff game with the protection battledore and free trade shuttlecock to divert the public attention from the anaconda coils of demonization which are squeezing out the life of all the industries of the people. Radical, sweeping reforms in the legislation and the business methods of our government are required by every consideration of patriotism and personal liberty.

Monetary reform is absolutely essential to the continuance of our free institutions. It is the paramount and overshadowing problem that now confronts the people who would be free. The ever living and vital wants of the people demand a national currency, safe, sound and flexible, issued by the general government only, a full legal tender for all debts, public and private, and of sufficient volume to meet the needs of an active, enterprising and industrious people in conducting the business of a country which a kind Providence has endowed with such resources and elements of wealth as are found in no other country on earth. The first step to be taken in accomplishing this great reform, is the reopening of the mints to the free coinage of silver upon the same terms that they are now open to the coinage of gold at a ratio of 16 to 1, and independent of any other nation. All other necessary reforms will speedily follow. Then, and not till then, will a new era of prosperity, contentment and happiness dawn upon the people and our republic brought back to the pathway of progress and grandeur and glory ordained of God and blessed out by the hands of America's illustrious patriots.

Nevada twenty years ago took the lead in the great battle for "more money and less misery."

And the Silver party received a larger majority in proportion to the whole number of voters than the party in any other State. The people of Nevada are now looking forward with fervent hope to the day when the Silver party will be elected to the National Committee and will be able to vote for the Silver party to repeal the gold standard and wipe out the last vestige of old partyism from Nevada's soil and remove forever this blot upon the Silver State's escutcheon.

No true friend of silver can any longer entertain a national hope that either of the old parties will give us free coinage, and neither of them should ever receive a vote in this State. We, pursuing the policy first adopted by our party, invite all earnest silver men of the Republican and Democratic parties to enroll their names upon our Silver Club lists, unite with the Silver party and let Nevada present a solid front now and forever against all men and all parties who are doing the bidding of the gold standard conspiracy. Let the ashes of the dead past bury the past and the living present unite in advancing our common cause.

M. S. BONFIELD, THOMAS WREN, C. E. CLOUGH, W. A. MASSEY, JAMES F. DENNIS, E. D. KELLEY, C. E. MACK, R. SADLER, W. J. WESTERFIELD.

The address was loudly applauded and unanimously adopted.

It was resolved that the Silver Leagues throughout the State be requested to resume active work in the enrollment of members and the advancement of the silver cause.

Reno, Virginia City, Winnemucca and Carson were respectively nominated as the place for holding the State Convention. On the first ballot Virginia received 19 votes; Winnemucca, 17; Reno, 16, and Carson 14. Several ballots were taken without result and on the 6th ballot Storey and Lyon stamped to Carson, which was chosen as the place for holding the Convention.

It was resolved that the delegations to the State Convention from the counties comprising the respective Judicial Districts be recommended to meet in Carson City on the 4th day of September and nominate their respective candidates for District Judges upon the adjournment of the State Convention.

On motion, a committee of three, including the Chairman, was appointed to telegraph our Congressional delegation and the following was sent:

RENO, Nev., May 23, 1894.

Senators J. P. Jones and Wm. M. Stewart and Representative Francis G. Newlands, Washington, D. C.:—Committee meeting large and enthusiastic. Placed themselves squarely upon monetary reform. Instructed to thank Senators and Representative for able advocacy

The Committee, having finished the business for which it assembled, gave three rousing cheers for the Silver party and adjourned.

The meeting was the largest of the kind ever held in Nevada, not excepting the flush times, and was one of the most intelligent and respectable bodies of men ever held in the State.

A Renote Heard From.

R. D. Clarke, who left Reno a few weeks ago to accept a position in old Mexico, has written his son Harry a glowing description of the part of the country where he is located. He is at a place called Nacosari, in Sonora. He writes that the climate is grand, the scenery magnificent and the finest water he ever used. The location is in a mountain range, covered with oak, black walnut, mesquit and other timber. Mr. Clark is connected with a company which has a copper smelter and leaching mill, and he says the copper ore taken out is the best he ever saw, running right along, as mined, at twenty-five per cent. The leaching mill is run on silver ore, but only enough of this ore is worked to produce silver to pay the expenses of the mine, the owners being satisfied to let the metal remain in Nature's storehouse until such time as it can be taken out at a profit. He is highly pleased with his situation and prospects, and Harry and his wife will start the latter part of the week to join their father in his new home.

Gone Prospecting.

After Mr. Monroe, F. L. Gould and others left town yesterday morning, and for Goose Valley, Plumas county. They are partially on pleasure, but will locate a gold mine where in which L. Dean and Tom Stewart are interested. Besides this they will do some prospecting on their own account, taking along the necessary tools for that purpose. They will be absent a week or ten days.
